The Sip 'n Dip Story

The O'Haire Manor welcomed the public in the spring of 1963 by brothers Bill and Edgar O'Haire of Great Falls. Known for the brother's exotic ideas, the inn was built with a helicopter landing pad on the pool roof. They also built a window from the lounge into the pool as well as a service call button in the rooms and housekeeping light system outside each guest's door.

The Brothers had traveled the country gathering inspiration for the now iconic motel. The original design was Art Deco as was popular at the time. In 1965, the O'Haire Brothers decided to turn the lounge into the popular Tiki Bar that is celebrated to this day.

The Inn was purchased and actively managed in 1968 by Melvin Mantzey, but he suffered a car accident and turned daily operations over to a new manager. About this time, the name of the business changed to the O'Haire Motor Inn.

In 1994, Mr Mantzey and his stepdaughter Sandra Johnson-Thares brought about a big comeback for the Inn. Mermaids were added to the pool in 1996 after a conversation between family members that it would be fun to dress up someone as a mermaid in the pool for New Year's Eve. A housekeeper who was willing and could swim was recruited, wrapped in a green plastic tablecloth, and was the first official Sip & Dip Mermaid. Mermaids and Mermen started swimming on the weekends to the delight of the guests. Now there are Mermaids swimming 7 days a week!

Over the years, tropical touches have been added making the Sip 'n Dip one of Great Fall's most unique drinking establishments. Patricia Spoonheim, the Sip 'n Dip's famous "Piano Pat" played in our lounge for over 50 years until her death in 2021. Joel Corda can now be heard playing in the lounge on Friday and Saturday evenings.

In 2000 the O'Haire Motor Inn was named the top Small Family Business of the Year in the state of Montana. In 2022 we began a RETROVATION of the Inn to bring it back to its original splendor. We dropped the "Motor" from the name and the façade of the building was restored. You will find original photos lining the walls and updates throughout the building celebrating our colorful history.

Welcome to the O'Haire Inn, we hope you enjoy your stay!
